Relief In Novel Way. Adrian, Mich. - "I suffered terribly

got so weak that I could hardly do my work. When washed my dishes l had to sit down and when I would sweep the floor I would get so weak that I would have to get a drink every few minutes, and before I did my dusting I would have so poorly that my folks thought I was going into consumption. One day I found a piece of paper blowing around the yard and I picked it up and read it. It said 'Saved from the Grave,' and told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women. I showed it to my husband and he said, 'Why don't you try it?' So I did, and after I had taken two bottles I felt better and I said to my husband, 'I don't need any more,' and he said 'You had better take it a little longer anyway.' So I took it for three months and got well and strong."—Mrs. ALONZO E. BAKER, 9 Tecumseh St., Adrian, Mich.

EDISON CALLED TO AID OF THE NAVY

ACCEPTS INVITATION TO HEAD AN ADVISORY BOARD OF CIV-ILIAN INVENTORS.

Plan is to Utilize Intentive Genius of Americans to Meet Conditions of Warfare Shown in Conflict Raging in Europe.

West Orange, N. J .-- Thomas A. Edison has accepted an invitation from Secretary Daniels to head an advisory board of civilian inventors for a bureau of invention and development to be created in the navy department. His acceptance will go forward at once to Washington, where the new plans await word from the man "who can turn dreams into realities."

Mr. Daniels' idea of utilizing the inventive genius of Americans in and out of the military and naval service to meet conditions of warfare shown in the conflict on land and sea in Europe is outlined in a letter asking Mr. Edison whether, as a patriotic service to his country, he would undertake the task of advising the proposed bureau. The plan is to have several men prominent in special lines of inventive research associated in the work.

Among the great problems to be laid before the investigators, the secretary mentioned submarine warfare, adding that he felt sure that with Mr. Edison's wonderful brain to help them the officers of the navy would be "able to meet this new danger with new devices that will assure peace to our country by their effectiveness."

In announcing that he would glad-ly accept Secretary Daniels' invitation, Mr. Edison said he believed the proposal so important that it should be attended to now, when the war in Europe was bringing before the public the importance of encouraging the developing of the ideas and inventions of Americans-especially officers and men of the army and navy.

"The Usited States is far behind in these matters," said Mr. Edison. "I believe it is highly important for a board of civilians, made up of engineers from leading industries, to be formed for the purpose of looking into the feasibility of ideas developed by young men. While all ideas that will be submitted may not be feasible at least they will have the benefit of expert judgment and advice."

A Poet's Tomb.

"Under my eyes," wrote Mistral in his vein of antique tolerance, "I see the inclosure and the white dome of where, like the snails, I shall lie hid in the gentle shade. Supreme effort of our pride to escape voracious time! This forbids not that yesterday or today quickly is changed into a long forgetfulness. And when people ask of John o' Figs, of John the gaitered, 'What is this dome?' they will reply: 'That's the tomb of the poet-a poet who made songs for a beautiful Provencal maid called Mireille. They are like mosquitoes in the Camargue, scattered far and wide. But he lived in Maillane, and the old men of the countryside have seen him walking in our paths.' And then one day they will say: 'It's he whom they had chosen king of Provence. But his name lives no more save in the song of the brown crickets.' At last, at the end of their knowledge, they will say: 'Tis the tomb of a magician, for of a 16-rayed star the monument wears the image." -The Century.
